Subject: RDSPs should be creditor proof !

Date: June-20-14 6:46:33 PM

Dear whom it may concern,

I strongly believe RDSPs should be creditor proof like RRSPs since RDSPs are a long-term savings plan intended to assist Canadians with disabilities and their families to save for the future with the contribution of family and Federal Government. RDSPs are the only long term plan to secure the financial future for the people with disabilities who will be in financially more fragile situation than general population. Most of these people can't even open RRSPs for themselves. Therefore, RDSPs fund should be exempted from seizure in bankruptcy to protect these people.

Sincerely,
Edward Song
